

Object Oriented Programming using Java

Assignment - 7

File Handling

1. Write a Java program to perform read and write operation from a file using Byte Stream classes. First write into the file by taking user inputs and then read the content from the file and display them.
2. Write a Java program to perform read and write operation from a file using FileReader and FileWriter class. First write into the file by taking user inputs and then read the content from the file and display them.
3. Write a java program to copy content of one file into another file using BufferedReader and BufferedWriter class.
4. Write a java program to store person name and contact numbers in a file. Write a menu driven program to perform write/append contact, read and display contacts.
5. Write a Java program that reads a text file and counts the number of words in it. Display the total word count to the user.